With what shall we Cover the Floor?

In British-made Carpets there is a considerable variety in style and texture. The Axminster, the most costly, is incomparably the most elegant of all the different fabrics—rich and heavy, with a long soft pile, and usually presented in the most exquisite designs, for which the material offers great facilities. No floor covering can be found better adapted for the adornment of a handsome drawing-room, boudoir or other apartment where elegance and luxurious comfort are paramount considerations. Price from 5s. 11d. per yard.
